Mrs. Ebbs' Assignment Sheet for the week of August 28, 2017

We've wrapped up most of the beginning year assessments and are getting into our daily routine. We'll start getting on our netbooks and doing some fun activities this week. The netbooks are small laptops that students will use for educational games, typing assignments, and more. Ask your student what they think about them. Spelling and Math homework will go home on Monday and is due each Friday. Take-home folders go home every day, remind your student to show it to you and look over anything inside. Some papers are to keep at home, others may need to be returned to school.

*Book Order - There's a book order coming home this week. If you'd like to order books complete and return it by the due date, or you can order online. Happy Reading!!!

Spelling: Our first spelling unit went pretty well. We'll work on plurals this week learning when to simply add an s, or when an es is needed. Try to remind your student when words end in y, we drop the y and add ies. Practice your words this week and study for the spelling test on Friday.

Math: Students worked hard on their math assessments. We're starting place value this week.

Reading: We'll continue reading Charlie McButton this week and discuss the literary elements; character, setting, and theme. Discuss the literary elements at home when you read a book, or watch a movie.

Writing/English: Students will learn about subjects and predicates of a sentence this week. We'll have a writing prompt and work on writing strong sentences about our topic.

Social Studies/Science: We're learning all about space and the moon this week. Students will identify the phases of the moon then show their skills with a fun activity.
